

Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs

Queens Building • 83 Somerset Street • New Brunswick, NJ 08901

National Academic Conference

Framing the Value of Diversity & Inclusion in Higher Education: Setting the Research Agenda

October 5th, 2017

Welcome Reception

October 6th, & 7th, 2017

Main Conference

College Avenue Student Center

Rutgers University-New Brunswick

Keynote:

How Numbers Lie: Intersectional Violence and the Quantification of Race

Khalil Gibran Muhammad

Professor of History, Race, and Public Policy, Harvard University

Former Director of the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, and Rutgers alumnus whose research focuses on race and the construction of criminality in the United States.

Panel topics include:

Gender healthcare, women in science, LGBTQA critical transitions, diversifying the professoriate, diverse males in leadership, recruitment and retention of faculty, promoting diversity in academic departments, online courses, race and racialization, constitutional rights and law, and international scholarship.

Keynote Speakers

Keynote:

The Compelling Interest of Diversity and Inclusion: A Threat or An Opportunity?

Nancy Cantor

Chancellor of Rutgers University- Newark

Distinguished engaged scholar and a public intellectual known as a leading voice on inclusion, diversity, and full participation.

Keynote:

Inclusion: A Personal Reflection on Our Institutional Commitment to Diversity

Phoebe Haddon

Chancellor of Rutgers University-Camden
Nationally recognized constitutional scholar, a leader in higher education, and advocate for faculty development, academic freedom and diversity.

Register today on the conference webpage.

The conference will be broadcast live with Livestream.

For more information see the conference webpage.

<http://academicaffairs.rutgers.edu/Diversity2017>